Emerson da Silva: Luz, Água e Terra Preta

April 15 – May 28, 2017

Galeria Palácio is pleased to present Luz, Água and Terra Preta, Emerson da Silva's first solo exhibition with the gallery. A film, a photograph installation, and a photograph are presented.

In Terrestre (2017, HD video, stereo, 12 min), the life cycle of a group of lettuce in a small garden was documented during two months by Emerson da Silva. The lettuce and its evolutionary process are figured as a resonance of life on the planet Earth. Fertile to life, the earth's surface as a cultivation ground for food production – the planet Earth and its unique weather conditions. The film Terrestre is structured in four conjunctures:

- The lettuce seeds fertilization in modules.
- The transplantation of seedlings seeded, at the beginning of life, to the terrestrial soil.
- The changing plasticity during the lettuce development life cycle.
- The reach of adulthood of the group of lettuce grown and its final harvest.

In Pré-Consumo, Alface Lisa (2017), a photograph introduced as a symbolic image to the dialogue introduced in the film Terrestre is presented. The photograph perpetuates the existence of a lettuce from the small garden documented in the film, at the time of the pre-harvest life cycle; and subsequent consumption.

An imagery narrative parallel to the one introduced in the film Terrestre is presented in an installation of seven photographs, with a homonymous title of the exhibition. In Luz, Água e Terra Preta (2017), the key elements employed by Emerson da Silva in the construction of the film Terrestre dialogue and interrelate. To the public is proposed an understanding of the narrative presented in the film from a new imagery composition.

Emerson da Silva (1988, Porto Alegre, Brazil) lives and works in Porto Alegre.
